Defends Plans For A-Bomb Test At Bikini Atoll

Vice Admiral Blandy Strikes
Back At Critics Of Cost
Of Bomb Tests

SAYS ESTIMATES
OF COST TOO HIGH

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy today struck back at critics of the cost of the forthcoming Bikini atoll atom bomb tests by saying that total expenses probably would not exceed "the cost of one large new ship."

The navy estimates the cost of a battleship of the "Iowa" class, largest naval vessel, at approximately 110 million dollars.

Blandy in charge of the tests, also repeated his denial that "operation crossroads" was a "martial gesture." He said that the tests were "measures of economy, not aggression," and were necessary to keep the nation from "perilous national weakness."

Estimates Too High

He said that estimates of 425 million dollars as the cost of the "guinea pig fleet" to undergo atom bombing were based on new ship values, whereas most of the vessels to be used are obsolete and worth approximately one per cent of original cost as scrap.

Blandy added that there was "no foundation whatsoever" to another estimate of 100 million dollars for expenses other than the value of the ships, as neither the war or navy departments or the joint task force has ever published figures on the costs involved.

The "operation crossroads" commander said the chief expenses would be cost of crews and maintenance of the target ships for about six months; the scrap value of the obsolete ships and the actual value of the modern ones; repairs to modern ships damaged; ammunition and fuel destroyed and consumed; and necessary special instrumentation.

WARN RESIDENTS
VACATION SPACE
RARE THIS SUMMER

HARRISBURG, April 16.—(INS)—Pennsylvanians were urged today to avoid mid-summer vacations because of a lack of accommodations. J. Herbert Walker, president of the National Association of Travel Officials and director of the State Commerce department's Recreation Bureau, warned that there was already a "lack of accommodations" during June, July and August.

Employers were asked to urge early or late summer vacations for their personnel.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Varied reports are heard today from fishermen as a result of the opening day of the trout fishing season here on Monday. Many of the fishermen report little luck, while others came home with some good catches. The rain that developed during the day cut short the fishing expedition of many of the anglers.

Weather conditions did another turn during the night, and something of a cold wave struck the area. Temperature was down near the freezing point on the thermometer again this morning.

In a safe and peaceful lunch room this morning there was seen one reminder of the danger which hung over men who served in the Pacific islands. An ex-G. I., garbed in the brown-black and green spotted fatigues that camouflage the fellows so well in the jungles, was calmly drinking his breakfast coffee.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today follow:

Maximum temperature, 68.
Minimum temperature, 35.
Precipitation, .70 inches.
River stage, 5.1 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 60.
Minimum temperature, 48.
Precipitation, 10 inches.

House Draft Action Much Disapproved By War Department

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The War Department was represented today as feeling that outright termination of the draft May 15 would be preferable to any extension which included a ban on the induction of teen-age boys.

A War department spokesman termed that the most objectionable feature in the nine-month extension bill approved by the House by a vote of 290 to 108.

Army In Hole
Taken in conjunction with the proviso written into the bill that men now in service must be discharged after 18 months, he added, and the Army was placed in a "worse hole" than if the act were permitted to expire next month.

The official stated that the War department could make the act work even with the five-month "holiday" on inductions provided in the House measure, but not with teen-age boys eliminated and discharges speeded up. He said:

"Take away the 18-year-olds and

State To Push Inspection Of Eating Places

HARRISBURG, April 16.—(INS)—The State Health department planned today to intensify its restaurant inspection drive next month.

Spot-checking in mobile laboratories will be conducted as the spearhead of an educational campaign to inform the public whether eating establishments were meeting sanitation requirements, according to Dr. William D. Schrack Jr., director of the program. There are approximately 6000 food houses in the state, he added.

Poor handlers' classes will be established throughout the state to educate restaurant proprietors and employees of the need for sanitation, Schrack said. Although that phase of the program would be delayed due to personnel shortages, he predicted.

Plan To Check 2 per cent

"We plan to check 2 per cent of the restaurants in each locality where the laboratories stop for spot-inspections," Schrack reported. "Carnivals and circuses will be visited also to make sure they comply with health requirements."

Local health officials and representatives of county medical societies and civic organizations will be asked to participate in the tours and instruction projects, he said.

We realize that the pressure of

Ambassador Ala May Resign Post

Iranian Ambassador May Become
'Scappagot' Of Power Politics
Is Prediction

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—The eventual resignation of Ambassador Hussein Ala is freely predicted today in diplomatic circles of the United Nations.

A check of delegates and observers alike culminated in the conclusive opinion that the swarthy little man from Tehran is well on the way to becoming the "scappagot" of power politics.

Although Ala himself is keeping silent on his immediate future and his official relationship with his government, there is a growing opinion among those concerned with the activities behind the scenes at the United Nations Security Council sessions that the Iranian ambassador is soon going to be "the man without a country."

The same sources point out that three weeks ago, the Tehran government of Premier Ghassem Rastakhsari dismissed his own ambassador in New York for prosecuting the grievances against Soviet Russia too energetically. In due time it was washed him once again by informing the Security Council that he had the full confidence and backing of the Persian regime.

MAY CLOSE DOWN
NEW YORK SUBWAYS

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—City officials said today New York's subways may have to shut down before the end of May if the current strike of soft coal miners doesn't end soon.

Transportation Dept. Charles P. Gross said the city has only six weeks' coal supplies on hand.

The arbitration boards also have recommended a 16 cents an hour pay raise for the three operating unions.

Represent 1,050,000 Employees
The 15 non-operating unions represent 1,050,000 employees of the 130 railroads. Unions involved are the telegraphers, clerks, machinists, electricians, boiler-makers and maintenance workers.

Three operating brotherhoods employing firemen and engineers, conductors and switchmen did not indicate whether they would join with the non-operating unions in the new demand.

THAT I SHOULD LIVE TO SEE THIS...

"BIBBS," a jet-black cat turns her feline eyes to heaven as if seeking a clue to the mystery of how it came to happen that she, above all the cats in the house, and there are 25 of them, should have a bevy of babies so unlike their mother. Of the three kittens, two are white all over. The third has a black spot. Cat experts say that chances of this happening are one in 500. "Bibbs" and 24 other cats are owned by Mrs. Freda Wesley, of Brooklyn, N. Y. She collects cats as other people collect stamps. (International)

Thousands Of Construction Jobs Halted

C. P. A. Announces Thousands Of Building Jobs
Hit By Recent Order

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The Civilian Housing Administration announced today that thousands of construction jobs started in violation of the recently created housing regulation have been halted since the order went into effect three weeks ago.

Morris S. Verner, head of CPA's compliance division, said his department has notified builders in more than 3,000 cases not to proceed with actual construction without permission.

Verner pointed out that the order was put into effect to provide materials for veterans' homes and other essential construction.

The CPA official said some of the builders had "merely excavated" and had not actually begun construction.

Labor Department Warns Women War Leaves New Problems

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The Labor department warned today that deaths and disabilities of Second World War servicemen will force serious readjustments on both married and unmarried women for some time to come.

A woman's bureau summary of Labor department statistics predicted a permanent increase in the earning responsibilities of wives, widows, spinsters and divorcees alike as a result of the war.

Although figures indicated that there would be fewer unmarried women of currently marriageable age than had been anticipated, it was noted that war marriages lacked the traditional protection and security for many women.

Increase Burdens
The main effect of service deaths and war-incurred disabilities, according to the bureau was to increase the burden of support.

Move To Provide More Meat, Butter For Home Tables

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The government moved today to provide more meat and butter for the American table through restoration of wartime controls on these important food items.

In joint action, the OPA and agriculture department announced a slaughter quota system to channel livestock to legitimate slaughterers and keep it out of the black market. The new quotas will be applied in a few days.

At the same time, Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles disclosed that in order to ease the butter famine the government will increase dairy subsidies, control the use of butterfat in ice cream production and ban the sale of whipping cream.

Awaiting "Go-Ahead"
OPA officials said that the agency is awaiting the "go-ahead" from Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles' office before issuing an order prohibiting the sale of whipping cream.

The order limiting the use of butterfat will be drawn up and issued by the agriculture department. Agriculture officials said, however, that the department has not taken steps toward issuing such an order.

In announcing the actions to be taken to increase the butter supply, Bowles predicted a "real improvement" in the critical butter situation within the next 60 days. He warned that consumers should not expect an immediate increase in the supply of butter in retail stores.

Should Unify Armed Forces

Head Of Senate Military Affairs Committee Declares
Action Is Needed Now

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—Sen. Thomas D. Utah, chairman of the Senate military committee, declared today that Congress should unify the armed forces now while it has the trained war leaders to carry out the gigantic consolidation.

Thomas called his committee together today for a possible vote that would send the so-called "merger" bill to the floor.

The chairman warned that undue delay may be costly in terms of experienced help for the task as well as in dollars to be saved by reorganization, Thomas said.

The important timing is that of still having the experienced military and naval leaders around to do the job.

Easter Vacation Starts Thursday

Holiday Will Be Short For Schools,
But Summer Vacation Is Just Around Corner

Easter vacation this year will be from 2:30 Thursday afternoon to Tuesday morning, according to Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools.

Compensating for the brevity of the Easter holiday season, the end of the school term has been set for May 31—the earliest date that the summer term has ever started. This set-up is because of the fact that the school calendar was made up before the end of the war with Japan.

At that time the board was faced with the necessity of accelerating the school program so that boys could finish sooner and enter service or take jobs, Dr. Burton explained.

The early vacation adds the superintendent, means that commencement will also be earlier than ever before, occurring this year on May 28.

WASHINGTON.—The senate banking committee hearing on price control extension became turbulent today as three Republican senators slashed repeatedly at Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles' policies.

On Agenda

RUSSIA AGAIN
FACING DEFEAT
(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—The U. N. Security Council today postponed a vote on Russia's motion to take the Iranian issue off its agenda.

The council decided to await a report of the committee on experts and probably will discuss the matter again on Friday.

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations Security Council whose candidacy for the post originally was backed by Soviet Russia, today questioned the right of the council to keep the Iranian issue on its agenda.

At the outset of another dramatic session in the former gymnasium of Hunter College, President Quo Tai-Chi read a report from Lie asserting that Iran's latest request to remove the issue was "arguable."

Discusses Angles
Lie delivered a scholarly interpretation of angles in the United Nations charter concerned in the present dispute and expressed doubts that the dispute could be kept on the agenda unless the council itself specifically voted a full investigation of whether or not the charges should be dropped.

We've talked about spring and the candidates; we've talked about fishing for trout, and we've talked about tennis and somewhat of golf but today all those subjects are out. For this is the days that the rains have longed for, the sport that today gets the call, and this is the day when the empire struts out and loudly announces "Play Ball!" So hoody for the Pirates, the Giants and Cubs, and the other teams that will go through, the season is open to fans' wild delight—the weather is bright, fifty-two.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Feeding Fat Hogs

Problem of Nation

WASHINGTON, April 16.—A fat hog eating its head off is the sign and symbol of our dilemma over food here in America. Various important gentlemen in Washington have been trying during the past week to wrestle with that fat hog, and not too successfully.

They talk with an almost mystic awe of something called the corn-hog balance. That balance determines the amount of grain available for shipment to Europe. Therefore it is important for millions of hungry Europeans as well as for politics and profit here at home.

While he was still head of the Office of Price Administration, Chester Bowles promised farmers there would be no decrease in hog prices before September 1 of this year. That commitment was part of the effort to increase meat production.

Pendulum Swings

But now the pendulum has swung the other way. The objective is to cut down on the feeding of animals so that grain can be released for shipment abroad. Hogs are being kept on the farm today until they fatten to 270 and 280 pounds, which is very fat even for a hog.

So that he could stick to his promise and still start a movement of hogs toward the packing plants, Bowles came up with an ingenious plan. He proposed that farmers be paid a premium above the ceiling price for lightweight hogs.

At the same time, a small premium would be paid on 30,000,000 bushels of corn. This could be done by government subsidy at a cost of not more than $15,000,000. The corn could be routed into channels where it would serve as animal feed and thereby release wheat for export.

Bowles was well aware that this would have the look of simply cutting in to higher price demands. Therefore he proposed to counter it with an announcement that after September 1 the price of hogs would be reduced.

Consults Wallace

Among other he consulted Secretary of Commerce Henry A. Wallace, one of the high priests of the corn-hog balance. Wallace felt that it was a sound idea—on paper. But he expressed good-natured doubt as to whether Bowles would have the nerve, in the face of the impressive political power of the farm bloc, to announce the reduction in hog prices which was the key to the plan.

Finally, the proposal reached the President. It is said to have been debated in his presence by Secretary of Agriculture Clinton D. Anderson. The net result of that discussion was the curious kind of compromise that has so often ended these disputes.

The premium on lightweight hogs was approved. So was the premium on corn. But, somehow, the pay-a-decrease in hog prices after September 1—was dropped.

Not Final Decision

This was not, of course, a final decision. The debate is still going on. Some announcement may be made even before this is in print.

An important factor within the Department of Agriculture favors a 25 per cent increase in corn prices. During the past three years, the price of corn has inched up about 10 per cent. A further jump of 25 per cent would obviously have an immediate and marked effect on the cost of living. Bowles contends it would boost the cost of living index by 5 per cent within a short time.

The struggle over the corn-hog balance is part of the broad battle over commodity prices. That battle is rooted in the power of the farm bloc in Congress. It has many fronts.

Cotton Front

One front is cotton. The question was whether cotton speculation should be curbed by government action. Secretary Anderson has many friends among the Southern Democrats from his service in the House. He was most reluctant to go along with a move to take margins on the purchase of cotton futures—one way to put a brake on a booming cotton market that has sent the price to a 22-year high.

Anderson wanted a directive from Bowles that would compel him to approve such an order. That would be a way out with the Southerners in Congress. The directive was issued. And Anderson put out a statement that Bowles felt was a calculated slap.

Politically, the argument of the farm bloc is hard to meet. Labor, the farm leaders insist, got their and now it's our turn. What they ignore is the level of farm prosperity, which is already higher than at any point since World War I.

Meanwhile the fat hog goes on eating. He is eating the precious stuff that could alleviate the world's hunger.

IN the past few months there has been abundant evidence to sustain both these contentions. And there will be more before Mr. Jackson returns. As a matter of fact, the Supreme Court itself, through its 4-10-4 decisions, made possible by Mr. Jackson's absence, has added fuel to the reasons for favorably considering first, Congressmen O'Hara's pending bill to prohibit Presidents from detaching justices, and second, the New York Bar Association proposed amendment to the Constitution which reads as follows: "No justice of the Supreme Court shall during his term, hold any other office, civil or military."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:30. Sun rises tomorrow 5:30.

A 16-year-old English girl, bride of only a short time, took one look at her husband's one-room cabin in North Carolina, and decided that she had no life for her. She said her husband gave her the idea he was wealthy. She wants to divorce him and stay here in America. Well, anyhow, she did get to America.

Nylon hair brushes, quite an assortment of them, were seen in a local store here the other day. However, we know a lot of women who would rather have a few other things made from nylon.

USUAL PROCEDURE
An underlayer found a doorknob lying dead in front of his premises and went to inform the police.

What am I to do with it? he asked the officers in charge. The officer had a sense of humor. "Do with it?" he asked with a grin. "Bury it, of course. You're an undertaker, aren't you?"

That's true, replied the undertaker with equal humor. "But I thought it only right to come around and inform the relatives first."

Congressional critics are wrong. We don't need a "stronger" leader; we need a "stronger" leader.

Folks, who feel that our garbage service is not so good at times, should take a leaf out of the page of Mrs. Leonard J. Quinn's book, "Mrs. Quinn, who lives in Pittsburgh, complained to the authorities when they collected her garbage. She was using it for fertilizer for her garden."

An auto rolled through downtown Indianapolis the other day, dragging tin cans and old shoes. People smiled indulgently, sending a wave of pity. They were astonished at the sight of a box in the rear. "Just Disposed,"

Politics And Court Issue Is Reviewed

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The longer he stays away the clearer it seems that the detachment by the President of Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson to act as chief prosecutor of the Nazi criminals at the Nuremberg trials was not good for the court, not good for the people, not good for Mr. Jackson and not good for the President.

It is true that Mr. Truman acted in accord with precedents set by his immediate predecessor. He was carrying out one of the Roosevelt policies. But this was one of the worst of the Roosevelt policies. It did not work well for Mr. Roosevelt and it is working less well for Mr. Truman. The evil effects of this kind of presidential interference with the work of the Supreme Court had been pointed out plainly enough for Mr. Truman to have avoided this particular Roosevelt mistake. Mr. Truman did not act wisely when he asked Mr. Jackson to take this assignment and Mr. Jackson, though he has done a creditable job, did not show wisdom in accepting it.

The committee involved with this legislation is astray. A subcommittee of the committee on territories went to Hawaii the first of the year to see for themselves, not only what the local sentiment was, but also if the islands were ready for statehood. They found a lot of good reasons for making this territory a state.

Impatiently the committee awaited the return of Chairman Hugh Peterson of Florida, who is just back from a highway junkie to Central America. The subcommittee is unanimously asking for immediate hearings.

The other five, besides Farington, were Democrats: Chairman Henry Larcade, Jr. of Louisiana, James J. Delaney of New York and George P. Miller of California and Republicans Homer Angell of Oregon and Dean Taylor of New York.

The subcommittee also unanimously says that the Territory of Hawaii now meets the necessary requirements for statehood.

If the Congress does not say "yes" to Hawaii it will be for two reasons seldom mentioned out loud. Some opposition will come from the Navy, although no one in the Navy department will admit this for publications. "After all, the commander-in-chief, Harry Truman, recommended statehood for Hawaii to the Congress in January."

The fleet is a familiar sight in the harbor. The Navy feels possessive about the islands. Antagonizing another incident of the Pearl Harbor variety, certain Navy officers and Army officers, too, for that matter, says quick and more controls are possible in the islands. If Hawaii is not a state with the rights that go along with statehood.

Outposts Farther Away
Now the argument, most effectively used to appease such Navy and Army fears, is that our outposts have gone further east, to the Philippines or the Marianas, where the harbors are larger. The (Continued on Page Five)

Children Sufferers
Let us remember that it is our children who are the major sufferers. What kind of future are we offering them? Children aren't organized. They are the innocent victims of our indifference.

Some parents and other citizens overlook the fact that their community and nation can be no better than the public education they help provide for the masses.

Most parents just don't know what is happening. Even in most of the school districts which have fairly good teachers' salaries, some of the best teachers have quit the classroom to take positions in industry or business at far higher pay and less strenuous work and less demand for maintaining a high standard of dress and the other things that are expected in the modern world.

Our nation needs and has nearly enough properly trained teachers to go round. Thanks to the war, the (Continued on Page Five)

UNWORKABLE RULES
If you want to know why meat continues scarce, listen for a moment to Representative Slaughter of Missouri. Following a personal investigation of the situation in Chicago and Kansas City he reported to Congress that more and more meat is going into black markets, while cattle purchased by large packers are declining steadily.

In Kansas City for instance the four big packers in a recent week bought only 1,780 cattle out of 21,762 received in that market. In the comparable week last year they bought 11,835 out of 37,230 received. Until recently, practically all cattle received in Kansas City were slaughtered there, now 40 per cent go to other markets.

Many black market operators refuse the government subsidy and thus avoid any contact with OPA.

Numerous small packers and some chain store operators also have gone into the cattle feeding business, for under OPA regulations there is no compliance schedule if cattle are held for more than 30 days.

Mr. Slaughter has been a consistent defender and supporter of OPA. But his investigation impels him to this conclusion: "The shortage of cattle which are available for slaughter at the large markets is caused by conflicting and unworkable regulations of the OPA."

Representative Slaughter's statements are specific enough to rate official attention. If they can't be refuted, remedial action by OPA is in order. Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"Every now and then some visitor comes to America from a foreign shore and considers it his bounden duty to criticize our women and our institutions."

The obvious reply to such a person is, of course, "If you don't like it here why don't you go back where you came from?"

A little while ago Randolph Churchill son of the famous Winston Churchill, complained that our women are not as beautiful and well dressed as they were when he was here three years ago.

Young Randolph is entitled to his opinion, and I hope I am entitled to mine.

I wonder whether he has made a thorough study of English women and the women of other European countries as he has of ours.

I wonder whether he considers English women more beautiful or more stylish than ours.

To my taste—and I have seen women in many countries—American women are not only the prettiest women in the world but dress in better taste than any others.

Now don't you say, Mr. Churchill, that our women have more money to spend than yours and that there are more materials available to them.

I have seen attractive and attractively dressed women in the poorest neighborhoods. Yes, even in our slums. I have seen what their, for a few minutes made themselves enticing enough to pose for magazine covers.

There is more to the beauty of our women, Mr. Churchill, than just body and dress.

Our women have poise and pride and self-confidence and charming coquetry.

Our women know that they live in America where yesterday is but a memory and where, in spite of the vicissitudes of today, there is always a tomorrow of surprises and possibilities.

Our women have the beauty of freedom and of hope and of progress.

Our women have the beauty of knowing that they may bear children who, no matter what their origin, may some day be president or, at least, a millionaire's wife.

After reading Mr. Churchill's column I looked around to see for myself.

The hats are a little cruder, perhaps, the make-up just a little thicker and more colorful, there is more costume jewelry and the cigarette holders are getting longer all the time.

But all in all, I assure you that if I were a young bachelor today, I wouldn't have any trouble at all to find a most delightful dinner companion—or twenty if my pocket-book permitted—for every night in the week.

If Mr. Churchill should want to visit my office, I would be happy to introduce him to a dozen delightful creatures without even leaving the building.

ICKES AND JAMES
The late secretary of the interior finds his journal environment as head of the "Independent Citizens Committee of Arts, Sciences and Professions," of which James Roosevelt is national political director. This is the organization which Representative Rankin, of the House committee on Un-American Activities, lately denounced as "Communist."

Whether Mr. Rankin was extreme in his denunciation or not, the ICCASP is inclined toward the extreme left and represents an outlet for political ideologies acceptable neither to Democrats nor Republicans. Mr. Ickes calls it an organization for "peace and democracy" for the independent voters.

The one obvious purpose of Mr. Ickes in taking on the leadership of this political outfit, of course, is to obtain a stage from which to launch his attacks on Mr. Truman. While the organization exists mostly on paper, it does form a convenient nucleus for parlor pinks, "reformers" and disgruntled New Dealers. His activities in all probability, if they follow the customary pattern, should prove more harmful than helpful to the President.

And James Roosevelt is political director of this independent committee.

THE LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD TREE
At the time of the Crucifixion, the dogwood attained the size of the oak and other forest trees. So strong and firm was the wood it was chosen as the timber of the Cross.

To be thus used for such a cruel purpose greatly distressed the tree and Jesus, nailed upon it, sensed this and in his gentle pity for all sorrow, said to it: "Because of your regret and pity for my sufferings, I make you this promise: Never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used for a Crucifixion. It shall be smaller and shall be bent and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a cross—two long and two short petals."

"And in the center of the outer edge of each petal, there will be nail prints. And in the center of the flower, crown with rust and stained with blood, will be a cross of thorns—so that all who see it will remember it was upon a dogwood tree that I was crucified, and this tree shall not be mutilated nor destroyed, but cherished and protected as a reminder of My agony and death upon the Cross."

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)

Harry Truman has decided to wear another man's shoes for three more years. But he will find that any callouses he accumulates will be his own.

He should know that whatever he does that's popular the credit will go to the shoes. If he does something unpopular, he'll get the socks. Or to quote an old phrase I just made up "better a man should wear his own tattered old wedgies than another man's polished boots."

But Harry has made his choice and he finds that his feet have spread by 1946 he can't complain at not being properly tried for size.

Harold Stassen is beginning to make a noise like a candidate. Mr. Stassen has just come out for "full employment" and set speech three in the candidates handbook.

"Full employment" is like sin. You can take a good solid position on it.

And nobody ever can answer you back. Any questions?

Prison Terms For Japs Who Murdered Fliers

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, April 16.—(INS)—Four Japanese accused of the murder of four Doolittle fliers in Kiangwan cemetery Oct. 15, 1942, escaped the gallows Monday when an American military commission sentenced them to imprisonment for terms ranging from five to nine years.

Observers said the Japanese received minimum sentences. A wave of indignation swept American and other foreign circles which had expected the Japanese would be given the death penalty.

Lieut. Gen. Shigeru, senior officer of the four defendants, was sentenced to five years imprisonment at hard labor. Commander Tatsuta, of the firing squad which shot the fliers, was given five years and the other two defendants received five and nine-year sentences. The commission held they acted under higher Nanking and Tokyo authorities.

The American military commission was composed of Colonels Edwin R. McReynolds of Washington, D. C., John F. Gamber of North Hollywood, Cal., J. M. Murphy, New York City, Richard H. Wise, Princeton, N. J., and Lieut. Col. Radford Berry of Harrisburg, Pa.

Prosecutors were Lieut. Col. John H. Hendon, Kansas City, Mo., and Major Robert Dwyer, Rochester, N. Y. The defendants were represented by Lieut. Col. Edmund J. Bodine, Coughston, Long Island, N. Y., Capt. Charles R. Phillips, Tulsa, Okla., and two Japanese civilian attorneys.

Find 'Elsie, Cobra Woman,' Was Man

Masquerade Had Been Maintained
For 30 Years Death
Reveals

LONG BEACH, Cal., April 16.—(INS)—A 30-year masquerade was at an end, in death, today for 'Elsie, the cobra woman.'

'Elsie,' killed by the bite of one of the diamond-back rattlers with which 'she' entertained crowds at a snake show in Long Beach, was really a man.

The masquerade, carried on since he was 18 years old, was revealed in a routine autopsy.

With the disclosure, police began delving into the snake charmer's background. They learned 'she' had been married three times, 18 years to 'her' present husband, Alexander Marx.

Questioned Marx explained: 'After we were married and I found out the truth there was nothing I could do about it. I stayed married because I felt sorry for her—or him.'

The female impersonator's name is listed on the death certificate as John Doe Nadi. Authorities were told that Nadi was the family name under which he was born in India of British parents.

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acid and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Double Shooting Being Probed At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 16.—

Mahoning County Coroner David A. Belinky continued his investigation of a shotgun battle in which two persons were killed Sunday night.

The victims were Lawrence Young, 46, and Mrs. Willie White, 38. Willie White said that he and his wife were walking along the street when Young came up behind them with a pump type shotgun. Mrs. White screamed to Young not to shoot her husband, the latter told police.

White said he ran and a little later heard two shots. The bodies of Mrs. White and Young were found near the point where Young had first accosted the couple.

ENGINE CRUSHES OIL LEASE WORKER

FRANKLIN, Pa., April 16.—His clothing caught in the clutch of an oil lease engine, Calvin K. Ferringer, 65, Bully Hill, was crushed to death Monday while his companion and fellow-worker, John A. Pyle, looked on, unable to render assistance.

Ferringer, with an oil rag in his hand, had walked near the engine, when his clothing caught in the clutch. Instantly he was tossed about, his clothing stripped from his body. By the time Pyle could shut down the speeding engine, Ferringer's body was thrown clear.

JERUSALEM, April 16.—(INS)—Thousands of pilgrims enroute to attend Easter festivals in Jerusalem were stranded in various parts of Palestine today after 4000 Arab and Jewish roadblockers went on strike.

The railroad workers' strike was called in sympathy with the strike of 2400 postal workers.

It is no longer necessary to put up with the trouble caused by Pin-Worms! A highly effective way to deal with this ugly infection has been established. Ask your druggist for P.W., the Pin-Worm tablet, developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, eas-to-take P.W. tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So don't take chances with the embarrassing, itchy and other distress caused by these creatures that live inside the human body. If you suspect Pin-Worms, get JAYNE'S P.W. and follow the directions. any other public office or perform any other function in behalf of the Federal Government or any state or other governmental entity; nor shall he after his term hold any public office or perform any function in behalf of the Federal Government or of any state or other governmental entity.

IT IS not likely this amendment will be adopted, and it ought not to be necessary, anyhow. But it does show the strong feeling among lawyers not only as to the assignment of justices to noncourt jobs but as to the somewhat degrading propaganda in behalf of individual justices for high political offices.

In recent years there has been a great deal of this. Largely it has centered around Justice William O. Douglas, whose attitude, to put it mildly, has not been one of discouragement. At the moment the names of both Mr. Douglas and Mr. Jackson are being discussed in gossip columns and labor periodicals as aspirants for the Democratic nomination for the Vice Presidency in 1948.

MR. JACKSON's name also has been under consideration as a possible candidate for governor in New York. Mr. Jackson is not likely to be named for governor and in all probability neither he nor Mr. Douglas will be nominated for the Vice Presidency. But it cannot help but cheapen the Court in the eyes of the people when the names of its members are thus bandied about by politicians and made the subject of ribald comment by the gossip writers. It is not easy to maintain the dignity of the court and preserve its tradition of aloofness from politics under such circumstances.

IN fairness to Mr. Jackson, it should be said that he is not aware of the booming of him for either governor or Vice-President. No one suggests that since he has been on the court he has ever encouraged his friends to regard him as receptive for any political post. The same cannot be said of Mr. Douglas. Certainly he is fully aware of the propaganda in his behalf, first for this post and then for that. He could not help but be. Certainly, too, he has never done anything to discourage it.

ON the contrary, his left-wing New Deal friends with whom he was actively and intimately associated before he was appointed to the court and with whom he is still in close touch, feel that what they have been doing in the way of Douglas publicity has been anything but offensive to him. Some of his deeply distressed colleagues on the court feel that way, too. The Supreme Court of the United States is the last place an ambitious politician ought to be. At no time in the history of the court has there been as much public gossip about its members for second-grade political posts. And at no time has the court been so embarrassingly afflicted by absenteeism. Certainly it is difficult to maintain that both the court and the country have not suffered.

REPORT

farther away from continental United States any future battleground may be the better. The people of Hawaii contend, if attacked again, the civilian community could better aid and abet the military, if organized as a state.

The other whispered reason is the fear that some Japanese-American might be elected to the most exclusive club in the United States, the United States Senate.

Proponents pooh-pooh this. They say, "look back over the history of Hawaii since it was annexed in 1898 and you will find the caliber of the men who have been sent to represent the islands in the United States Congress has been consistently high."

The present delegate is another Farrington, a name associated with the progress of the islands. It was his father, once governor and owner of the largest newspaper, who was responsible for the Hawaiian Bill of Rights.

Briefly, that made certain that Hawaii would be included in the same benefits offered the states. But there is still a joker, as Hawaiians know full well.

The territory must be specifically mentioned in each bill each time, so anytime Congress, through some whimsy, might decide not to include the islands it could. Congress could take away anything, even self-government. With statehood, the constitution would make the islands' rights unalterable.

MUMPS, MEASLES INCREASE IN STATE

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—(INS)—Health Department authorities today reported an increase in the number of cases of mumps and measles throughout western Pennsylvania.

The Falk Clinic reported 109 cases of mumps last week against 54 for the previous week. Seventy-three cases of measles were on record in the Health Department.

scarcity of teachers is appalling now. Most of the teachers colleges were almost empty during the war and practically none are nearly filled up yet. What inducement has there been for a bright young woman to spend years and considerable money to prepare to teach when, with a few weeks of training at a business college, or with no training whatsoever, she could earn, and still make more in an office or factory than in a schoolroom? Not for ten years will there be nearly enough trained teachers.

HIGHER SALARIES

School districts with higher salaries are "stealing" the best teachers from the smaller places. Local school authorities have had to announce examinations "for anybody who will try" and make these examinations easy enough, no matter how easy, for enough persons to pass to fill the vacancies. This eventually will bring teaching standards down practically everywhere.

In spite of their lack of training and education, some of these teachers do marvelously well with children. But what of the rank and file of them? Also, like preachers, missionaries and public health nurses, some rare persons will stick to it, no matter what the pay.

Yet, their number is relatively small. In the long run the degree of training and teaching efficiency of most teachers will depend on what we pay them.

Can we afford to place so low a value on the boys and girls who are to carry on in our places tomorrow? Can we afford to rob them of their birthright? Can we have the heart to leave them with so miserably a heritage?

WORKERS REJECT OFFER

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—(INS)—Striking CIO-Shipbuilders and Marine Workers at the Dravo Corporation's Neville Island plant today rejected the company's offer of a nine-cent an hour wage boost. The union originally asked for an 18-cent pay hike.

His counsel, D. B. Marks, plans to appear before the board Wednesday.

NORTH CASTLE, N. Y., April 18.—(INS)—Perrle Mackenzie said today he wouldn't be surprised if his pet Belgian hare develops a menacing growl.

The hare, annoyed yesterday by a dog, chased Fido into a corner, administered a shower of punishing kicks with his hind legs then stalked triumphantly to his hutch.

Beef Shipments
To Retailers 98%
Less Than In 1941

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The Senate agriculture committee was told Monday that New York City retailers are receiving 98 per cent less beef per week than they did five years ago.

R. G. Haynes, vice president of Wilson and Co., Chicago packers, testified before the group investigating the meat shortage that customers of these retailers will be able to buy only one-third of an ounce of beef next week compared with a pound of beef in 1941.

At the same time, G. L. Childress, manager of the Houston (Texas) Packing company, warned the committee that the diversion of livestock into the black market was creating an acute shortage of glandular extracts to treat glandular diseases.

Childress said at least five large drug companies had sharply curtailed production of the vital medicines because of the scarcity of legitimately slaughtered meat animals.

New York Town
May Not Want UN
As New Neighbor

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 16.—(INS)—Officials of this Long Island village laid the groundwork today for the holding of a referendum to decide whether residents want the United Nations situated nearby.

And comment in the village, as well as at a town meeting gave every indication that the U.N. would receive from Lake Success the same cold shoulder it was afforded in the Westchester county—Connecticut area.

The meeting and the referendum decision were occasioned by an announcement that the U.N. proposes to lease the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success from the Reconstruction Finance Corp. as an interim site for the next three years.

Fear of housing difficulties was a prime factor in the vote to hold a referendum.

Another worry of local residents was that the approximately $20,000 a year now paid by Sperry in town taxes might be cut down if the U.N. occupies the plant.

EVERY DAY many Long Distance lines are like crowded highways. We are building new circuits, putting in new switchboards, training new operators. But until they are ready we ask your patience and forbearance while we try to serve everybody who wants to make Long Distance calls.

When you use Long Distance only for necessary calls, it helps keep the lines clear. And when you keep your calls brief it cuts down the delay on other necessary calls.

For a while longer—until we can get new lines and switchboards into service—we hope you will help by making only necessary Long Distance calls.

Foreign Trade Outlook Is Good

Representative Of Irving Trust Company Of New York Says Future Prospects Bright

New Castle Rotary club members heard an interesting discussion of the foreign trade outlook at their luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday noon, when they were addressed by G. I. Messemmer, an officer of the Irving Trust company, of New York.

Mr. Messemmer appeared before the club through the interest of Al Teshen, export manager of the Johnson Bronze company, and a member of Rotary. The speaker has been a member of the committee on foreign banking, and also represents his firm on the Foreign Credit Interchange bureau of the National Association of Credit Men.

Mr. Messemmer stated that in spite of the losses sustained by many of the countries through the war, there is a great amount of money available for the purchase of American goods, and that the Export-Import Bank is loaning money for the purchase of American goods.

The United States also spent a great deal of money abroad during the war, and normally imports a great amount of goods, which will provide credits for purchases here, he stated.

Conducted Survey
His bank recently conducted a survey, he said, trying to find out what kind of goods would be bought here. These included heavy machinery and tools, electrical goods, building materials, automobiles and trucks, and their accessories, as well as consumer goods, as the shelves of most merchants abroad are empty.

For those planning on entering the export field, he warned that they should determine whether there is a market for the goods, and whether he can sell for a profit.

The Department of Commerce, he stated, maintains offices in Pittsburgh and Cleveland, which can furnish an inquirer with valuable information, and there are organizations engaged in dealing abroad.

who can furnish foreign trade service in the way of buying and selling cheaper than a firm can set up its own organization. These exports specialists keep in close touch with the field.

Members of the club will visit the United Engineering and Foundry company along with members of the Kiwanis club at noon, Wednesday, following luncheon, they will be taken through the plant on an inspection trip.

On Sunday evening a number of junior and senior soldiers will be enrolled, and some young people will be commissioned. ## 'Pup Tent' Tour Of State Is Plan Of 'GI' Candidate

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., April 16.—(INS)—A unique political cavalcade—headed by colorful ex-Staff Sgt. Carl E. Mau, self-styled GI candidate for governor—today began a 125-stop "pup tent" tour of Pennsylvania.

Garbed in army uniforms, Mau's caravan was comprised of a dozen discharged veterans who are supporting his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor.

From tonight until primary election day on May 21, the party will sleep in army "pup tents" outdoors—"come rain or shine," according to Mau.

First overnight stop of the "GI cavalcade" is listed for the state capitol in Harrisburg tonight.

There, Mau and his supporters will pitch their "pup tents" on the spacious capitol lawn—with the telegraphed permission of Gov. Edward M. Martin, who heads the state Republican organization's slate which Mau is attempting to buck.

Style Show Money Donated To Cancer Drive By B. P. W.

Business and Professional Women's club of the city has made a fine donation to the current Cancer Control drive, turning over the total receipts from their recent style show, $336 in all, to the county fund.

It is the hope of the Lawrence County association to conduct a house-to-house canvass during the drive, in order to put the county over the top in their quota of $12,000.

Local business establishments have been asked to co-operate in the April campaign, and this for donations will be seen about the town. Checks may be mailed to the county headquarters in the Lawrence Savings and Trust building.

Friendly Raccoon Frequents The City

John James, of Wilson avenue, city policeman, informed Owen Fox, city forester, that he recently saw a large raccoon in the Narrows, beyond the head of Neshaunack avenue, making himself at home.

Owen thinks that possibly it may have been the same animal that had invaded a lady's kitchen on Walnut street, and wanted to make itself one of the family. The presence of the animal gave the lady quite a scare, who gave Mr. Fox a call, and Owen went the next morning, and ousted the raccoon.

In the home, the raccoon had made himself comfortable, having probably been befriended by folks, and received many handouts.

Grievance Or Request, Covered By Jacob

Jones & Laughlin Personnel Leader Discusses Grievance Problem Monday

One of the most forthright speakers heard on the programs of the Economic and Business Foundation forums this season was M. H. Jacob, assistant personnel director of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation, who spoke Monday night in the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. His subject was "Problems in Handling Grievances."

Mr. Jacob minced few words in the treatment of his subject. He argued for a clear-cut presentation of grievances upon the part of the union and a prompt, intelligent handling by the company.

"A grievance is not a grievance until after the foreman has been approached and the employee refused," said Mr. Jacob. "Many contracts are so general in scope that what are termed grievances are in reality requests, and a distinction should be made between them. Once a foreman has refused what the employee believes is a grievance, it is then the shop steward's job to present the case."

Shop stewards should not be paid by companies for time consumed in transacting purely union business.

Vandalism Under Control At Butte

Large Number Of Deputies Sworn In To Cope With Lawless Outbreak

BUTTE, Mont., April 16.—(INS)—Tense law and order was the keynote today in Butte where bands of vandals have wrecked and looted the home of stand-by workers of the strike-bound Anaconda copper mines.

Sheriff Al McLeod issued a statement which declared:

"We positively have the situation under control. We have not had any reports of vandalism since last Monday night."

The sheriff's statement added, however, that his office would continue to sweep in deputies until the situation returned to normal.

Except for a series of false alarms turned in to the Butte fire department, law enforcement officials in the city and Silver Bow county reported nothing unusual during the night.

The sheriff's office reported that some 100 deputies were added to the force, many of them members of local unions.

Strikers volunteered for duty on patrol with the sheriff's men and approximately 100 joined in protecting residents against additional violence.

More than 15 homes suffered at the hands of the hoodlums who went into action while law enforcement officers were on calls in other parts of the city.

Mobs of 400 to 500 persons smashed windows, broke furniture and looted the homes of the victims.

Many Veterans Get Educations

Over 20,000 Returned GIs In Western Pennsylvania Are Attending Schools

More than 20,000 veterans of the late war in western Pennsylvania are being equipped to meet civilian life with new knowledge and skill through the education benefits and on-the-job training provisions of the ex-servicemen's readjustment program. This has just been revealed by Kenneth S. Corey, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office at Pittsburgh.

With about 10,000 tri-state area ex-servicemen attending colleges and universities, the remainder are usually divided between full-time formal instruction and on-the-job training, a great increase having been noted during the past month.

About 5,000 veterans have been placed in vocational training schools throughout the region where they are learning literally every trade and job from abattoirman to X-ray technician. Dr. Ernest E. Brown, chief of vocational rehabilitation and education, states:

Shenango Street 'Y' Displays Art Work In Library
An eye-arresting exhibit of art work is on display in one of the cases in the public library, the work accomplished by members of the Shenango street Y M C A art club.

The display includes a variety of work from pencil studies to an ambitious oil with water-color medium making up most of the show. Work of Elmer Brown dominates the display, with a fine black and white ink work and three water-color undertakings. Richard Wynn contributed two landscapes, while James Altman has done a pencil sketch of President Truman.

Most outstanding picture in the group is the well done water-color of a pointer dog, done in vivid hues by Elmer Brown. He has caught the brilliance of the field in autumn, with the hunting dog poised in its alert attitude.

"Genie with the Light Brown Whiskers?" —PHOOEY!"

DEAR FOLKS:

I'm not really one to complain. But something's been eating at me lately. It's a book I've run across. Aladdin. Aladdin, with his old lamp and that corny genie in it.

Don't think I'm jealous. No. Only I do think I deserve a better break against that genie with the whiskers. Imagine, writing books about him. And not even mentioning me!

I'm a modest fellow. But let's face facts. That goon doesn't even belong in the same league with me. Why I could give him cards and spades and still come up with more miracles per kilowatt hour than he could perform in a thousand and one nights.

My trouble is that you folks take me for granted. When I heat water for electric iron, or chill your refrigerator, or pop up your toast, or clean your rugs, you expect it of me. But let that doxy genie do anything and right away somebody writes a book!

Ah me! Also, woe and alas! But don't think I'm going to sulk. I'm used to being taken for granted. I'll go right on being at your service, day and night. But I just had to get this gripe off my chest. Gosh, all that fuss over some old genie!

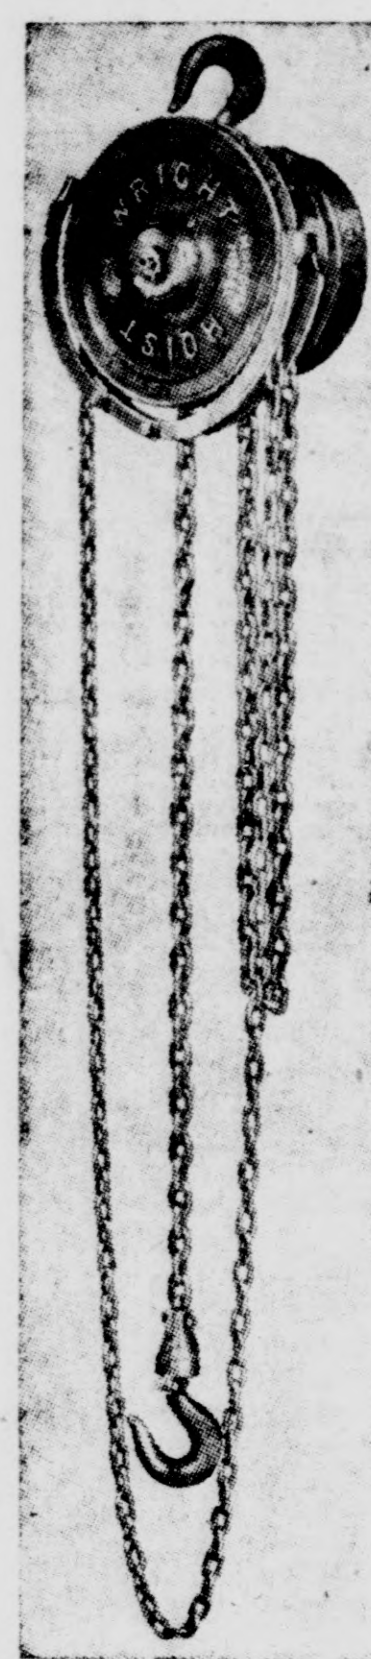

Faithfully yours,

House Votes For Induction Ban
For Five MonthsAlso Votes For Exemption
Of Teen-Aged Youths On Monday AfternoonMEASURE GOES TO
SENATE FOR ACTION

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—The House on Monday afternoon approved by a vote of 290 to 103, a nine-month extension of selective service, with teen-aged youths exempted and all inductions banned until at least October 15.

The draft act expires May 15 unless extended. Members were recorded for the first time on the much amended May bill which is reported out by the House Military Affairs committee originally provided for inductions of men aged 18 through 25 and contained no provision for a "draft" holiday.

The final vote on the third day of consideration of the controversial legislation, which now goes to the Senate, brought the first roll call, members having previously dodged answering to their names. Goes to Senate. It was preceded by a motion by Rep. Short (R-Mo.) to recommit the bill to the committee, a parliamentary maneuver designed to kill the measure. The motion was rejected by a voice vote of 135 to 74.

The reception the House bill will receive in the Senate was highly conjectural. The Senate is now awaiting consideration of its own committee approved bill for a straight one year extension, from May 14, 1946, to May 15, 1947, with youths of 18 and 19 included in the draft and no suspension of inductions. The Senate may reject the House bill, modify it considerably, or accept it pretty much as is.

Regardless of what action is taken, the final draft of the bill will be decided upon by a joint congressional conference committee, subject to approval by both houses.

BYRNES WILLING TO DISCUSS GERMAN
ISSUES WITH FRANCE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—Secretary of State Byrnes Monday informed the French government he is willing to discuss German issues proposed by France for the big four foreign ministers Paris meeting agenda. Byrnes stipulated, however, that such discussions must take place after treaty drafts for Italy, Finland, Hungary, Roumania and Bulgaria have been completed.

The secretary's stipulation was viewed by observers as a move designed to induce France to cooperate with the United States and Great Britain in effecting early action on the peace treaties.

"The new GAS RANGE is the Best Cooking Appliance ever built"

There are important reasons for such an overwhelming vote of confidence.

Modern Gas ranges are spotlessly clean, of course, just as they are completely automatic, with "clock-control-cooking," too, if you want it, but it is the marvelously efficient low flame method of Gas cooking that assures exact results—so easily—and wins the housewife's heart.

Over any other method of automatic cooking, the modern Gas range oven has the exclusive advantage of automatically graduated heat. Temperatures are self-adjusting to meet the exact requirements of the oven evenly and continuously—not by fits and starts. It is the "throttle" type of heat control which makes this superiority possible.

Smokeless broiling is another exclusive feature obtainable only in the modern Gas range—made possible by the flame method of cooking. The flame consumes the broiling vapors.

See your Gas Appliance Dealer or Gas Company Office so you can enjoy a modern Gas range soon.

With Truman On Filipino Problems

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—Paul V. McNutt, U. S. high commissioner to the Philippines, conferred with President Truman Monday on the commonwealth's rehabilitation problems.

McNutt said, Mr. Truman informed him he still hopes to attend the Manila ceremonies July 4, when the Philippine independence will be proclaimed.

The high commissioner is to leave Washington for the Philippines tonight, traveling by air, and is due to reach Manila Friday.

McNutt said he was "satisfied" that major legislative steps to provide for American aid in rehabilitation of the war-ravaged islands have been taken.

He added that he had been assured by congressional leaders that "loose ends" in the legislative program would be taken care of in the near future.

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—(INS)—An automobile bounded across a sidewalk today and came to a halt in the living room of Clifford Berger's home in nearby Erie. Berger said he and his family were asleep when a car driven by Frank McNeal crashed through the house and smashed all the furniture. Police arrested McNeal on a reckless driving charge. Oswego, N. Y., features prominently in military annals. In 1736 it was taken by soldiers, and the British took it.

NEW YORK, April 16.—(INS)—A railroad brakeman's legs were evaluated today at $165,000 in a federal court jury's verdict. The award was recommended last night in the suit of Richard Delaney, 30, of Peekskill, against the New York Central railroad for $250,000. Delaney's legs were severed in an accident May 3, 1945, while he was working in the Harmon yards. Decision was reserved on a motion for the railroad to set aside the award as excessive.

SOMETHING ABOUT SELTZER

As a voter you have a right to know something about William C. Seltzer a candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress, on May 21, 1946.

WHO IS HE? A native of Lawrence County, a graduate of Allegheny College, a married man with two children, a business man, and a veteran of the South Pacific campaigns.

WHY SHOULD HE BE NOMINATED? Because his career is ahead of him, not behind him. Because he is young enough to be aggressive and old enough to know the practicalities of government. Because he has proven his right to leadership in a military way he can be expected to exert leadership in government.

WHAT DOES HE OFFER? An Americanism tried in the crucible of war, business judgment proven in peacetime pursuits, and a liberal approach to the vexing problems that beset all of us.

Government Adopts CIO Economic Plan Manufacturer Says

President Of National Association
Of Manufacturers Plays
Government Policy

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 16.—(INS)—The federal administration stood accused today by Robert R. Wason of New York, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, of "progressively reducing the freedom of the individual in 13 years of peace and war."

Wason, speaking at a regional meeting held in cooperation with the Wisconsin association last night, also charged the administration with adopting the CIO economic plan.

Freedom Is Goal

The association president asserted the problem of America's domestic economy is "the recovery of our freedom." He declared:

"Freedom is as surely our goal today as it was in 1776. I am talking about the restrictions on our liberties. . . . The OPA that prevents production of goods, a fiscal policy that squanders your money, the subversion of political leaders to labor union leaders in exchange for votes."

Controlled Economy

Wason said that the CIO economic plan which the administration has made its own contends that purchasing power should be in the hands of labor. He stated:

"Washington's subservience to CIO is now clear, the path toward collectivism which it implies is now plain. Every American should be concerned about his unending progress toward a government-controlled national economy."

Wason promised that industry "will stifle inflation with production" if the administration permits.

Air Operations Policy Of U. S. Is Now In Confusion

Senate Action Casts Doubt On Legality Of Bermuda And Chicago Agreements

WASHINGTON, April 15.—(INS)—American policy on international air operations was thrown into confusion today by senate action casting doubt on the legality of the Bermuda and Chicago air agreements.

The senate commerce committee gave notice to the state department to terminate without delay all further proceedings under the two pacts, asserting they were "illegal and void" without senate ratification.

The Chicago International Air Transport agreement, signed last year, established the principle of the "fifth freedom of the air" as a basis for international air operations.

The Bermuda agreement was a bilateral pact concluded in February 1945 with the United States and Great Britain in which the two nations agreed on an exchange of landing rights at important fields throughout their territories and possessions.

The senate commerce group held protracted hearings at the request of Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) in an effort to rule on the desirability and legality of the Bermuda pact.

The resolution containing the committee's ultimatum was drawn up by Sen. Brewster (R-Maine) and approved by a 17 to 1 vote.

Nazi Chieftain Defends Policy In Eastern Areas

Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi Commissioner For Occupied Russia, Defends Hitler

NUERNBERG, April 16.—(INS)—Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi commissioner for occupied Russian territory before Germany's defeat, told the allied war crimes tribunal today that Adolf Hitler had been the "real ruler" of captured eastern areas.

The one-time party "philosopher" said that early in Hitler's regime he had been given the task of creating an eastern defense system. He explained:

"I took measures to prevent the German Reich from being forced to fight every 25 years for its existence against attacks from the east."

Rosenberg defended Nazi procedure in occupied Soviet lands by saying:

"German settlers for centuries cultivated a larger area of the Ukraine than British cultivated in the British Isles."

"This was the legal basis of our conquest."

Two New Castle brothers, Pvt. Otto G. Pardack and Pvt. Charles P. Pardack, met for the first time in over a year recently, in Germany.

Pvt. Otto, who is stationed in Bamberg, Germany, traveled 45 miles to be with his brother, Pvt. Charles, who is located at Nuremberg.

Both boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Pardack, R. D. No. 2.

Goodyear Workers Stage Walk-Out

AKRON, O., April 16.—(INS)—Nearly 2,800 employees of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company No. 2 plant in Akron were idle today as a result of a dispute involving six workmen.

The plant's entire force was made idle when workers in the curing pit and bag preparation department walked off the job in protest against the transfer of six employees to other departments.

The company, in a brief statement, explained that the men were transferred to other duties in what constituted an elimination of a temporary operation formerly handled by regular workers in the curing pit and bag preparation department.

Services will be conducted each evening during the remainder of the week in Epworth church.

Most People Are Honest Declares Weights Inspector

Harry Jones, city and county inspector of weights and measures, reported that although he has been "on the job" six weeks, he has not yet found anyone with a desire to cheat. "Most people are honest," Jones reported.

He said he found the measure of gasoline given out to be correct and said that as soon as a businessman discovers his scale may be a wee bit off he sends for Mr. Jones, and if the latter cannot adjust it, a repairman's service is sought immediately.

Mr. Jones' duties take him not only throughout the city, but all over the county.

W. C. T. U. ASSAILS APALLING AMOUNT OF HOME DRINKING

CHICAGO, April 16. (INS)—The National Woman's Christian Temperance Union stated today that an increase in home drinking has caused American family life to fall to "bar-room standards."

Mrs. D. Leigh Collins, president, estimated that a 500 per cent increase in home drinking has occurred since the first two years of prohibition.

She said:

"More than twice as much liquor, wine and beer is now sold for carrying home as is served over bars."

"Kitchen and rum-punch room bars are home phenomena of the decade. With so many parents nightly indulging in drinking bouts growing juvenile delinquency becomes more understandable, since the children are under bar-room environment in their own home."

Bicycle License

Plan Not Given Up

Mayor John F. Haven, head of the department of public affairs, which includes the bureau of police, today reported he has not abandoned the idea of having Council adopt an ordinance regulating bicycle operation here.

A year ago Council discussed the feasibility of licensing bicycles because so many were stolen and police had to use men to hunt for them. Proper registration would tend to decrease thefts, it was reported.

In the proposed ordinance, Haven indicated today would be regulations the bicyclists would be required to follow. In brief, bicycles would be required to be illuminated at night and obey traffic regulations.

Officers To Don G.I. Uniforms At Unit Formations

New Directive Says "Brass" Must Dress Like G.I.'s Until New Clothes Are Issued

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(INS)—Officers will "fall in" on July 1 in GI uniforms.

Action making it mandatory for the "brass" to dress like enlisted men at intervals before June 30, 1946, when identical uniforms must be worn at all times was outlined today in a new army regulation.

By order of Secretary of War Patterson over the signature of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, army chief of staff, the order said that until June 30, after next officers may continue to wear uniforms presently available except during formations, starting July 1, when they will be required to don GI togs.

A war department spokesman pointed out that it has long been a practice for officers in all grades to be garbed alike during this military assembly for ceremonial purposes. He added, however, that for the first time it has taken form of an army regulation.

The clothes-conscious U. S. army served further notice that modifications or improvements in uniform will be a continuing process, asserting that these changes would be put into effect when research and development indicate the need.

Widespread impressions that action to end the distinction between uniforms of officers and the men they command was taken to modify critics of the army's alleged "caste system" was challenged, in effect, by an explanatory section of the new directive.

Senator Thomas says the draft has nothing to do with our international commitments. Why does he think we need an army here at home?

Conn May Quit If Joe Louis Defeats Him In June Battle

Handsome Billy Ready To Lay Up Gloves And Go Into Some Kind Of Business

Louis Favored In Betting At Present 11 To 5, To Retain His Championship

PITTSBURGH, April 16.—(INS)—There is a definite possibility that sweet William Conn will retire from the ring if he fails to win the heavy-weight title in his scheduled 15-round bout with Champion Joe Louis in Yankee Stadium on June 19.

This was learned today from one of Conn's closest friends, who declared the handsome harp has tentative plans of opening a restaurant in Pittsburgh, should the Brown Bomber shatter one of his everlasting dreams.

Will Quit If Licked
"Billy has told me a couple of times," the friend said, "that he is going to quit fighting, if he finds that Joe is an insurmountable obstacle in his path to the championship."

"Fight fans forget that he is no longer the 19-year-old kid that took New York and the nation by storm one night ten years ago when he defeated Freddie Apostoli. If he doesn't make it this time, it is unlikely he will ever become heavy-weight champion."

It was suggested that even though he loses, Conn still could make a lot more money barnstorming around the country as a fighter than he would make in a lifetime as a restaurateur.

Must Get In Shape
"True," opined the friend, "But first let's see what kind of shape he can work himself into after the four-year layoff. I haven't seen a fighter who has spent anytime in the army or the navy who has looked as sharp as he did before he joined the service."

"We friends of Billy, aren't going to let him go touring around if time and the long layoff have caught up with him. Most of those bums couldn't lay a hand on him, but why be foolish and let him take the chance?"

Conn Serious
The friend hastened to add, however, that he felt Conn will be the next champion, pointing out that the title means so much to him that he can't miss being ready this time. He added:

"Billy isn't going to make the mistake of exchange punches with a puncher this time. He learned his lesson the hard way when Louis punched him into the prone position. And Billy wants to move on that prone position, especially after four years of army calisthenics. Credence was added to the friend's statement by Conn himself, who, not too long ago, told International News Service:

"What's so hot about being a big time boxer? It's a lot of hard work and you're famous today and forgotten tomorrow. And look how many guys get shagged around without ever becoming a main eventer, even in their home town."

Bettors Favor Louis
Meanwhile the early betting odds are 11 to 5 that Louis will retain the championship. One prominent Pittsburgh gambler said:

"I laid $1100 to $500 as insurance. I feel certain that the odds will grow longer and will be 3 to 1 by the time of the fight."

Thus, if the wizards of odds know anything, come June 20 the only bell sweet William will be listening for, will be that one on the cash register in his proposed Pittsburgh besner.

Need Good Outfielder
Said Haas: "Lions is still a while of a pitcher. Bill Dietrich is going to win ten to us this year. All those rumors were incorrect, too. Dietrich's our starting flinger against Feller in the opener today."

"Hal Trusky's starting to just switch again, instead of just left-handed, and it's paying off."

Isn't there anything that might help the Sox?

"Well," Haas admitted, "we could use a right-hand hitting outfielder. Wright and Moses, both left-handers. We don't have Thurman Tucker out center-fielder, is it?"

Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio golfers were talking today about the opening of the five-team league at the Castle Hills golf course, this city on Sunday, May 5.

A meeting of the league was held at Youngstown last night with five teams definitely in the newly created loop, as follows: Castle Hills; Tam O'Shanter; Warren Avalon; Youngstown Tippecanoe; Mahoning Country club.

Attending the meeting from New Castle last night were Charles P. "Bugs" Walther, of The News, president of the league; Larry Gramling, manager at Castle Hills; Jimmy Ludwig, secretary of the league; and Fred Palmer, captain of the Castle Hills team.

Strong Golf League
The league will comprise all of the best amateur golfers in the district with competition very keen. The matches at Castle Hills will start at 12 o'clock noon Sunday, May 3. No doubt a large following will be on hand to watch the golfers tee-off.

Ellwood City and Sylvan Heights decided not to enter the league, both teams having been invited. The franchise money amounting to $600 was posted by the five teams last night.

Sanders-Surkont Go To Braves In Latest Big Deal
Cards Dispose Of Veteran First Sacker And Rookie Pitcher, Get Rookie Shortstop
BOSTON, April 16.—(INS)—Ray Sanders, first baseman of the St. Louis Cardinals, today became the property of the Boston Braves.

Also purchased from the Cards was Max Surkont, 23-year-old rookie right-hand pitcher. The deals reportedly involved payment of $30,000 and transfer of Boston Shortstop Tommy Nelson to the Cardinals Columbus farm team.

Sanders helped the Cards win three world series and last year batted .276. Dick Sisler will take over his position on the St. Louis team.

Surkont, 23, is a former St. Louis pitcher, who was traded to the Cardinals last year.

"REMEMBER this gentleman?" inquired Deane Smith, business office face wore a quizzical "Just a minute" Here and There replied. "We know your face. We've seen you before but—" At this point the man interrupted with: "George Chaney?" And there he was, the Demagogue King of the decade ago, a chap who some times flattered opponents before fans could see themselves in comfortable and the one who sent a Philadelphia ring boxer in the days of yesteryear. He stopped off to pay a visit and meet some "reps" he knew when he was knocking 'em dead as a 130-133 pounder. He is reported to have earned in purses more than a million dollars. He said Monday he is now managing Allie Stolz and Tippy Larkin. Chaney said he has been "making the rounds," looking for good prospects and had just left Cleveland where he met up with Tom McMahon, Jimmie Dunn, Phil and Matt Brock and others of the Cauliflower Club. In his day, Chaney fought everybody. One of the fights in which he participated but which Here and There missed was the Kilbane-Chaney fight at Sandusky years ago. Kilbane knocked him out. The late Jimmie Dime, late George Lamoree and others from New Castle witnessed Chaney box to the last hard-hitting Kilbane.

While it is true he lost a few fights, Chaney won a lot of fights. Though questioning but that he was dynamite unleashed when he stepped into the ring and, as he put it yesterday: "I was in there to fight, get it over with and be gone." There wasn't anybody who was somebody he didn't fight. He went into the ring 179 times but is devoid of the usual scars which come to a fighter who is. He weighs 129 now, is unmarried, and thanks to frugality, fears no wolf. He will "wind up" in Baltimore before long, but before he left Here and There asked him whom he believed would win—Joe Louis or Billy Conn? "Conn will win if he boxes. He is smarter now than when he first met Louis. He forgot to use the bicycle and keep 'riding' to victory. Louis is an orthodox fighter, can do his fighting only one way and will be lost if Conn boxes and uses a lot of tricks," Chaney said.

Rain helped the trout fishermen yesterday, many of whom went to the mountains the day previous to be along the creek at 3 a. m. Amateur boxers who will appear here next Monday are in training. If Russell Baxter wins tonight he is certain of another bout in Youngstown. This time for the baseball experts to pick how the teams in the majors will finish this season. . . . Moose bowlers will get away for Buffalo and the ABC meet Saturday.

Fair Or Foul
By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, April 16.—There has been considerable hullabaloo raised in these parts recently over the fact that one Michael Strauss Jacobo or Uncle Mike Jacobs as he is more commonly known, is charging $100 for a ring side seat for the forthcoming Louis-Conn return bout for the world's heavyweight championship.

Whether Mike is justified in charging such a fee for this return brawl or not is none of my particular business—at the moment. Whether it will be a colossal, rip-roaring, pandemonium, worthy of five years of waiting, or a five star flop I do not know.

Biggest Thing Yet
This I do know. Whatever the result, it will be the biggest thing yet in the history of the sport. It will be a fight that will be talked about for years to come.

Protect Your Car Against Ping Spots
Flying gravel produces "ping" spots visible from the upper side. These "ping" spots are caused by such force that the blow also loosens the surrounding paint. This damaged area eventually requires a retouching job. Prevent this by spraying the underside of your fenders with 3-M Underbody Protective Coating which absorbs the shock of flying gravel.

Plan Curbing Meat Racket By New Channeling

WASHINGTON, April 16—(INS)—The government announced Monday a program for channeling livestock to established legitimate slaughterers in a move to curb the black market in meat.

The new program was described as "a major step directed at providing better distribution of the country's present meat supply through established channels and at ceiling prices."

The program was announced jointly by Price Administrator Paul Porter and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson. Porter said the program is designed "to reduce the operation of certain slaughterers who have increased their slaughter greatly during recent months."

Anderson termed the action "a share-the-livestock program."

The program, which will be put into effect soon, will provide a livestock channeling system to give each legitimate slaughterer an opportunity to kill the same proportion of the available supply of cattle, calves and hogs as he slaughtered in 1934.

In announcing the program, Porter said:

Price Control To Stay

"The answer to equitable distribution of meat supplies is not the abandonment of price control, as suggested by some."

"We are not going to ask the American people to pay tribute to a legalized black market."

Porter said that "the real answer" to the meat situation "lies in a system of controls at the source of supply which will give established slaughterers more nearly their customary volume of livestock."

Anderson explained that the new program places no restriction on the total production of meat. He said:

"It's purpose is to get meat operations back into normal channels. Some packers have had difficulty in getting normal supplies of livestock at prices in compliance with ceiling regulations."

OPA explained that since some controls were suspended last September, many slaughterers have been killing several times their normal proportion of the available supply of meat. The agency said that the result has been that other slaughterers found it difficult to obtain more than 50 to 60 per cent of their customary proportion of livestock.

Over Hundred New Members At First Methodist

With 63 new members joining the church on Palm Sunday, a total of 101 new members have been received at the First Methodist church since the beginning of the conference year in September. This is in response to a goal set by the congregation of 100 for the entire year.

These results have not come from any outside evangelistic campaign, but entirely from the efforts of the congregation under the leadership of the pastor, Dr. Burr R. McKnight, as the evangelist, with C. P. Cook as director of the visitation campaign.

They were ably assisted by a group of 80 visitors, trained by Dr. McKnight for the purpose, and who made over 300 calls in the homes of the people. A special new members class will be conducted by Dr. McKnight in the Sunday school for three weeks, beginning Sunday, April 28, at 10 a. m.

Council Likely To Help Defray Expense

Property Director Joseph D. Alexander today informed Council that a committee in charge of a homecoming celebration for servicemen in May desired the city to help defray expenses.

Finance Director Albert H. Howland stated the committee also had conferred with him.

Mayor John F. Haven stated it would be the first official welcome the people had had an opportunity to give.

Upon motion of Safety Director D. O. Davies the committee was requested to make a formal application which is pursuant to councilmanic policy, after which a decision will be made.

All councilmen indicated some money would be appropriated.

Cyclones whirl the other way in South America. This is not surprising in a region where Democracies are ruled by dictators.

EGG HUNT GOOD WAY TO ENTERTAIN CHILDREN

An Easter party for the children can be unusual and at the same time require little money and time spent for preparation according to Miss Marquette Little, child care specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Invitations, prizes and favors can all be symbolic.

A children's party is not complete without an egg hunt, so start by having the children hunt for uncolored hard cooked eggs. Give each child a quart size berry box for carrying the eggs he finds and give a prize to the child finding the most eggs.

After the egg hunt divide the eggs equally among the children and have them color the eggs. Each child should have an apron or smock to protect the clothing. Small prizes might be given for the best looking set of three or six eggs and for the best colored eggs.

Bowls to hold each color of dye should be provided and there should be plenty of spoons for handling the eggs. Transfer details can be used for putting special pictures on the eggs.

After the eggs are colored, the baskets may be made. Materials needed include wire for handles on the quart berry boxes, crepe paper, colored paper, scissors, paste and filler for the baskets such as artificial grass or ground cedar brought from the woods.

The hard cooked eggs, if not eaten at the party, may be used later for creamed eggs, egg salad sandwiches or deviled eggs. However, they must be kept under refrigeration until used because eggs kept in a warm place spoil easily.

City To Adopt New 422 Route Through City

During Council session which was held Monday morning in City Hall, there was sent to committee for consideration ordinances which would have the city adopt state highway department lines for the new route 422 through the city and also authorize the city to pay the city's share of the cost, $14,000.

The new route 422 will begin at the Ohio-Pennsylvania line and run to Rebecca street at Sampson in this city. It would also follow Neal street, Taylor street and Butler avenue extension to East Washington street.

Council met Monday in city hall and adopted an ordinance which authorized the city to buy 300 Miller multiple manual coin parking meters from the Koontz Equipment company, Pittsburgh. The Mark-Timer meters now in use will be sold to the highest bidder.

The Koontz company paid $10 each for the 110 sold some time ago, which brought down the cost of the new meters to $65.00 each. The motion to buy the new meters which have been operating satisfactorily, was offered by James Gibson, director of streets.
